I NFLAMMATION AND MMUNITY

from BENCH

to CLINIC

15TH DECEMBER 2017
FACULTY OF PHARMACY
UNIVERSITY OF SEVILLE

Seville, Spain
December 15th, 2017

This scientific seminar aims to meet basic and clinical researchers, together with industry and administration representatives, to explore and discuss inflammation and immunity in health and in pathological processes. Our aim is to promote a debate on research in these fields and to stimulate the translation of research findings into novel therapeutic applications. It will be an opportunity to forge new scientific collaborations within our environment and to favour the bases for future activities and joint projects.
